Professional translations since 2004

Introduction

I am an Italian native speaker freelance translator.

I have been working in the translation industry since 2004 and since 2007 I mainly deal with patent and technical-scientific documents.

Over the years, I have gained solid experience in the industry and easily adapt to the specific needs and preferences of the client thanks to specific terminology dictionaries, translation memories, glossaries and customised style guides.

Punctuality, precision, reliability, strict compliance with the customer's instructions and constant search for improvement are the foundations of my work on which I have developed my career.
