Professional Background: Since 2007 Freelance Interpreter and Translator Since 2019 Founder and CEO, Mawe-Language Services

With a broad focus on various key areas, I offer comprehensive translation services. My specialization lies in the precise translation of website content for an appealing and consistent presence in different languages. Additionally, I have experience in translating technical documents, ensuring the accurate conveyance of complex technical information.

In the marketing field, I translate and review product descriptions for diverse marketing projects, emphasizing precise and persuasive communication. In legal matters, I am adept at translating and reviewing legal documents, contracts, and privacy policies, demonstrating an understanding of legal terminology and nuances.

My expertise also extends to medical and pharmaceutical translation related to devices and journals, ensuring precision and clarity in conveying complex medical information. Additionally, I bring valuable experience in the areas of police, court, and customs, being familiar with specific terms and requirements. Although I don't hold a master's degree in translation and interpreting, I distinguish myself with comprehensive knowledge and experience in my field.

As a native Czech speaker, I am fluent in German and have good proficiency in Polish, Slovak, and English. References are available upon request.
