Objective: I would like to work for a professional company as a freelancer where I could use my translation, subtitling, localization, interpretation, copywriting, and IT experience.

I am ready to face new challenges in the areas of computer-related tasks such as website and software localization, subtitling, translation of video tutorials (e-learning), interactive applications, and learn more CAT management.

Current and recent jobs

- I have had translation jobs via ProZ.com
- They include a large continuous job for eBay via Lingo24, when as a part of a team, I translated the eBay website using XML Cloud. Terminology, product categories and features (80k)
- Religious texts
- And the translation and subtitling of an episode of 'The Resident' using Ooona platform
- I recently finished a large project of a Finance Software manual for Asahi (45k – MemoQ).
- And a smaller project for a Chemical Use conference (Phrase)
